Good day,

The AAAS – Caribbean Division asks for your help to disseminate information among your graduate students conducting research activities, about our poster competition for the 2009 Robert I. Larus Travel Award, which provides travel and other expenses for the awardee to attend the 2010 national meeting of AAAS in San Diego, CA, 18 – 22 February, 2010, for the purpose of presenting their winning presentation as a poster.

The winner is selected from among competing students presenting posters at the the Robert I. Larus Award Competition that will be held on Saturday October 10 at the Natural Sciences Building, College of Natural Sciences, Río Piedras Campus of the University of Puerto Rico. The deadline for registration and abstract submission has been extended to September 18, 2009. More information, detailed instructions, and the electronic registration form can be found in the following web address:
